6. Rules, conditions, and expectations applicable to the entry level training and to the Operational Training Programme (OTP)

As prospective European Border and Coast Guard Standing Corps Contingent Commanders, the Officers will undergo a comprehensive training programme designed to equip them with the necessary knowledge, skills and competences for your role. The training will consist of a full-time extensive training period covering border and coast guard matters and leadership training. It will take place in one or more training institutions across EU Member States/Schengen Associated Countries. If required, some training activities might take place outside training centres, especially to provide the learners with direct experience of tasks connected to the position.

During the training, knowledge, skills and competences will be regularly assessed to verify that Officers meet the expected learning outcomes of the programme. They should be prepared for the possibility of early morning or night activities, which aim to train them in simulated scenarios they may encounter in the field as part of future job. Physical activities, use of force and shooting training are integral parts of the programme.

A crucial further part of the training is a mandatory experiential learning phase, providing the Officers with hands-on experience of the role. This phase might require them to participate in weekend and night shifts upon proper assignment to shiftwork duties.

The training is fully organised and run by Frontex. The working language is English and all elements of the training programme, such as the training material, lectures and tests will be conducted in English.

To consider a travel for business purposes as a mission, a perimeter of 50 km surrounding the Agency's seat is set.<sup>14</sup> If parts of the training are held at a location more than 50 km from the seat of the Agency, participation in such training may be classified as 'travelling on a mission.' In this case, full board accommodation in shared rooms, with two persons per bedroom, will be provided. Due to the intense nature of the training schedule and the requirements of the service, annual leave will be limited to the breaks in the training programme, to ensure that the Officers complete the full programme and remaining focused and fully engaged in their development.

Additionally, specific duties connected to the training programme or hosting Member State institution rules, might restrict the Officers ability to enter or leave the training centre premises at certain times.

The training programme does not include recognition of prior learning. Therefore, even if the Officers have previously completed the Frontex Operational Training Programme for the European Border and Coast Guard, they will still need to undergo the managerial training programme for Commanders.

7. Tasks after successful completion of the OTP for European Border and Coast Guard Frontex Contingent Commanders

After successful completion of the compulsory training, the European Border and Coast Guard Standing Corps member will be assigned to a managerial role and will be deployed to become the frontline of the European Standing Corps, dealing upfront and hands-on with routine and challenging situations at the EU and Schengen external borders. The successful candidate will be put on a managerial trial for nine-months as a 'probationer middle manager'<sup>15</sup>.

Some of the tasks listed below may require use of force and/or service weapons in accordance with the national law of the host country, and in the presence of border or coast guards of the host country. Such use shall comply with the principles of necessity, proportionality, and precaution.

Recruited newcomers are expected to agree to receiving recommended (and certified) vaccinations within the provision of preventive occupational safety measures and of public health.

After their initial training period and having been assigned to a managerial role, the Frontex Contingent Commanders will perform the following tasks:

- a) Lead and manage Frontex Contingents (FC) consisting of up to 600 Standing Corps members and other support/administrative staff, as well as technical equipment allocated to the FC.
- b) Manage and monitor the implementation of operational activities based on the operational plans, including the respect of fundamental rights and the report of potential non-compliance.

- f) Manage and supervise and/or support the performance of border and migration management tasks, such as border checks, border surveillance, registration of migrants, gathering information, document, identity, and vehicle checks, preventing, and combating cross-border crime and return.

8. Deployment and other work conditions as Frontex Contingent Commander

European Border and Coast Guard Standing Corps will be deployed on a rotational principle throughout their career. Deployment and/or redeployment to operational areas could result in being stationed at the external borders of the European Union or in third countries. The deployments may take several years. Standing Corps members should not expect to be deployed only to areas/locations of their personal preference.

European Border and Coast Guard Standing Corps may be required to work in shifts during nights/weekends/public holidays and often in challenging and harsh weather conditions. Subject to operational needs, they may also be requested to remain on stand-by and called to perform operational tasks, should such a need occur at a short notice.

9. Probationary period<sup>16</sup> of the contract

A contract of employment will be offered for a period of five years, with a probationary period of nine months. A report will be prepared one month before the expiry of the probationary period at the latest, detailing the ability of the newcomer to perform the duties pertaining to the post and their efficiency and conduct in the service.

A mid-term review may be provided to assess newcomers' progress and suitability to perform their duties. These will be assessed through specific tests, in view of the objectives covered by the specific and mandatory European Border and Coast Guard Standing Corps' training programme (as described in point 6 above). Various modules of the programme will be assessed by exams. Acquired knowledge, skills, responsibility, autonomy and attitude will be assessed against the requirements of the European Border and Coast Guard Standing Corps training programme. Fundamental Rights competences are horizontally integrated in all chapters throughout the entire programme.

During the training, there will also be various aptitude tests which will be used to assess candidates' ability to perform duties with executive powers.

Failure to successfully complete the European Border and Coast Guard Standing Corps training programme may result in dismissal.

10. Contract of employment

The selected top-ranked successful candidates will be offered a contract of employment by the Appointing Authority of Frontex. To be engaged, the successful candidates should be available for the job for the starting date indicated in the job offer.

The successful external candidates will be engaged as temporary staff pursuant to Article 2(f) of the CEOS. The temporary post in question is placed in the following function group and grade: AD10<sup>17</sup>. The duties will be extended to include middle management tasks after the initial training period and after being assigned to a commanding function. For additional information please check ANNEX III.

<sup>16</sup> Article 17 of the Management Board Decision 34/2020 on middle management staff shall apply to the newly appointed middle manager's trial period - this trial period will start to run after the completion of the initial training and after the assignment to the managerial (Commanding) function.

<sup>17</sup> For current EU temporary staff 2(f) the classification in grade and step should be established in line with Article 55 of the CEOS.

Application Procedure

The Frontex application form is available for download (as a dynamic PDF form) on the Frontex website under the link “Apply” provided within each recruitment/selection procedure publication. This digital application form is uniquely created for each recruitment/selection procedure (and shall not be reused for other applications/procedures).

The Frontex Application Form must:

- Be opened in a PDF reader in a MS Windows equipped computer - the recommended version of the PDF reader is Adobe Acrobat Reader DC (version 2021.001.20155. You may download a free version here: <https://get.adobe.com/uk/reader/>).
- Not be manipulated or altered. The form is digitally signed and protected against any manipulation or changes. Therefore, candidates shall not try to manipulate and/or alter the form. Attempted manipulations will cause the digital signature to disappear, and the application form will become invalid for subsequent processing, resulting in automatic rejection of the form on submission.
- Be completed in English. Fields, where you may enter your input, are highlighted in light blue colour. Fields marked with an asterisk (*) indicate a required input. You should be concise, the space for your input is limited by the size of the text boxes.
- Be saved and named as follows: SURNAME_RCT-2024-00071.
- Be submitted to Frontex - after saving - by uploading it to this URL link:
<https://microsite.frontex.europa.eu/en/recruitments/RCT-2024-00071>
- If technical challenges with the online portal are encountered or the system becomes unavailable, please send an email to AD10StandingCorps@frontex.europa.eu without delay including proof of the reported technical issue (full-screen screenshot) and your completed application.

Should a candidate submit more than one application for this procedure, Frontex will only assess the first application and will automatically disregard all other applications.

If at any stage of the recruitment/selection procedure it is established that any of the requested information provided by a candidate is false or misleading, the candidate in question will be disqualified.

Candidates considered for engagement will be requested to supply documentary evidence in support of the statements made in the application. They should not, however, attach any supporting or supplementary documentation to an application until asked to do so by Frontex.

Incomplete applications, applications uploaded after the deadline, sent by e-mail or applications using inappropriate or altered/manipulated application forms will be automatically disregarded by the system and will not be processed further.

The closing date (and time) for the submission of applications is provided on the title page of the Recruitment Notice.

Please keep a copy of the automatically generated submission code that proves that you have submitted/uploaded your application to Frontex.

Candidates are strongly recommended not to wait until the last day to submit their applications.

Frontex cannot be held responsible for any last-minute malfunction due to an overload of the system or for other technical issues candidates may eventually encounter in the very last moment before the deadline.

Applicants are required to keep a copy of the automatically generated submission code that proves submission/upload of the application to Frontex.

Due to high volume of recruitment/selection procedures handled by Frontex, the period between the closing date for the submission of applications and tests/interviews may take significant amount of time.

ANNEX II

RCT-2024-00071

Components, Methodology and Weight of Tests

Applications submitted within the deadline will be assessed with regards to general eligibility requirements as described in the Recruitment Notice, based on declarations made by candidates. Only the first application submitted by a candidate will be considered as valid. Candidates must not send incomplete applications. Frontex will consider applications for further assessment based solely on what is clearly written in the application form. Additional documentation or information sent by electronic mail or other means will not be considered.

Applications which are deemed eligible will be processed to the next stages.

A screening of applications by the pre-selection panel against certain essential selection criteria will take place. Only the candidates who meet the selected essential criteria will be invited for the next stages of the recruitment/selection procedure, as described below.

The weight of Stage I and Stage II is distributed as follows:

- Stage I: 75%.
- Stage II: 25%.

1. Stage I

While processing the applications, Frontex may assess/score certain selection criteria jointly, and some criteria may be assessed/scored in two or more steps of the recruitment/selection procedure.

- a) All tests in Stage I will be conducted online.
- b) Candidates' identity shall be verified before starting the tests, and their performance during the test can be monitored.
- c) Before the start of the tests in each stage, candidates will be informed about the specific instructions to be followed.
- d) Candidates will need a computer or smart device (tablet) connected to the Internet with functional front-facing camera, headphones (for the listening exam), and microphone (for the speaking exam).
- e) It is the responsibility of each candidate to ensure that the test is taken in suitable conditions.
- f) Should it be found that the test was taken with external support of any kind, the results will be annulled, and the candidate will be disqualified from further steps of the recruitment/selection procedure.
- g) Failure to take part in the test in allotted time will result in disqualification from further assessments. It will not be possible to reschedule the date and time of the test.

1.1 Knowledge test

- a) This test assesses candidates' overall level of understanding of a range of essential competencies under time pressure. It consists of a multi-question exercise, each with a statement and at least three alternative responses out of which only one will be correct.
- b) An incorrect response given to a question will deduct half the value of one correct response. Unanswered questions will be scored with zero points. Random responses to questions are discouraged.
- c) Candidates will have a limited amount of time to submit the test.
- d) The questions will be related to the following topics:
  - EU legislation related to Frontex and border and/or coast guard functions and/or return related activities.
  - Functioning of the EU institutions and bodies, including operational cooperation between European and international organisations.
  - Fundamental Rights and their implementation in the law enforcement sector.
  - Professionalism, integrity, responsibility, and adherence to high ethical values.
  - Risk management.
- e) 0 to 10 points will be awarded to each individual candidate. Only candidates who reach the minimum total score of 3 points can proceed to the next test. All other candidates will be excluded from the recruitment/selection procedure and will not be invited to the next tests.

1.2 English language proficiency test

- a) The test will be recorded by the candidate's camera and microphone during its entire duration.
- b) The English language test will be conducted with the support of an external contractor and will consist of the following components: listening, speaking, reading, and writing.
- c) Candidates who do not meet the minimum requirements according to Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) for each of the tested components (reading, listening, speaking, writing), will be excluded from the procedure and will not be invited to the next tests.
- d) The threshold is set at C1 level, as defined in the Common European Framework of Reference for languages.

1.3 Psychometric tests

- a) The Psychometric tests will be conducted with the support of an external contractor.
- b) The tests consist of multiple-choice questions with a statement and at least three alternative responses, out of which only one is correct. Candidates will have a limited amount of time to submit their answers.
- c) These tests are designed to measure candidates' decision making and judgement in work-like situations. They will focus on verbal and abstract reasoning.
- d) 0 to 10 points will be awarded to each candidate per test. The final score will be the average of the two individual scores. Candidates who do not reach the minimum score of 3 points on each test will not proceed to the next stage and will be excluded from the selection process.

Upon finalisation of Stage I, candidates will be listed and ranked in order of scores, from highest to lowest, based on the sum of points obtained in the Knowledge test and in the Psychometric test. Candidates that fail the English language test and/or do not reach the minimum scores required in the knowledge test and/or in the psychometric tests will be excluded from the next steps of the recruitment/selection procedure.

The one hundred (100) top scoring candidates will proceed to Stage II of the recruitment/selection procedure, as described below.

When two or more candidates score the same points, the order of applicants shall be established considering the following order of priority:

1. Overall score of the knowledge test.
2. Number of correct responses to the knowledge test.

3. Final score of the psychometric test.

If two or more candidates score the same points and the rules of order priority do not resolve the tie, a higher number of candidates shall proceed to Stage II.

The final list and order of candidates who will proceed to the next stage will be confirmed by the selection panel.

2. Stage II

To be allowed to take part in the physical aptitude tests, candidates must provide the selection panel with a medical certificate issued not earlier than 10 days prior to the tests by an authorized medical specialist of one of the Member States stating that the candidate meets the physical conditions necessary for the performance of the tests detailed in this annex. The document may be provided in any of the official languages of the European Union. Failure to provide such a document may result in the exclusion of the applicant from the recruitment/selection procedure.

Each exercise of the physical aptitude test shall be scored from 0 to 5 points, as set out in the tables below. The final score of this test shall be the result of the sum of the scores obtained in each exercise. Candidates who score below the minimum of 5 points overall or score 0 points in any individual exercise will be excluded from the recruitment/selection procedure.

Each exercise of the swimming test shall be scored from 0 to 2.5 points, as per below table. The final score of this test shall be the result of the sum of the scores obtained in each exercise. Candidates who score 0 points in any individual swimming exercise will be excluded from the recruitment/selection procedure.

The Stage II score shall be the result of the sum of the physical aptitude tests result and the swimming tests result.

Candidates will be ranked from highest to lowest score based on the final score obtained.
